10:00-12:30	Communication, socio-cultural understanding, collaboration Becoming aware of the four-mode perspective and the ways it works best for you in your personal life.	On day 1 and 2, Communication is the main topic. You will be introduced to the Four-Mode Perspective: this universal principle entails that every challenge can be met, and that every message can be brought in four different ways. Together we will explore each of the four modes: their benefits and qualities you can develop when you are in the specific modes, how to motivate people in four ways, how to provide feedback and how to build bridges and avoid annoyances. The Four Mode Perspective becomes even more interesting if looked at from a global perspective: you will discover that the four modes are the same everywhere in the world, but their appearances differ from one culture to another. After submerging yourselves in the Four Mode Perspective for two days, you will be surprised and exited how it will give an enormous boost not only to your communication skills, but also to broader thinking and better understanding others.
